USE OF MUSIC — SOCAN & RE:SOUND LICENSES

SOCAN (Society of Composers, Authors, and Music Publishers of Canada) is an organization which, under the Copyright Act of Canada (R.S.C.555.1), is authorized to collect fees for the public performance of music in Canada. SOCAN distributes the money collected to Copyright owners in the form of a royalty. Under Tariff No. 8, renters are required by federal law to pay a performing rights license fee.

Re:Sound is the Canadian not-for-profit music licensing company dedicated to obtaining fair compensation for artists and recording companies for their performance rights. The Copyright Board of Canada certifies the tariff to be paid by users of sound recordings in Canada under Re:Sound’s Live Events Tariff, which apply to the use of recorded music accompanying live events such as weddings, karaoke, conventions, ice shows, and fairs. Under Tariff 5.B, renters are required by federal law to pay for using recorded music at their events.
